TEMPORARY FOOD FACILITY POLICY

A Temporary Food Facility, sometimes called a "Food Booth," is a food facility that operates out of temporary facilities approved by the DEH for a period of time not to exceed 25 days in a 90 day period in conjunction with a single, weekly, or monthly community event.

A "community event" means an event of civic, political, public, or educational nature to which the public is invited, including state and county fairs, city festivals, and circuses. Examples include Redwood Acres Fair, Fourth of July Festivals, North Country Fair, Apple Harvest Festival, and other large-scale events. Non-profit organizations that offer food to members and guests at occasional events not associated with a community event (pancake breakfasts, church dinners, ice cream socials, and other fund-raisers) are not considered community events. Community events with more than one booth are required to obtain a Temporary Food Facility Coordinator permit, and each booth operator must be approved by the coordinator in order to participate.

The California Retail Food Code (CalCode) regulates Temporary Food Facilities, and specifies operational standards. DEH has a free informational brochure that describes the requirements for construction and operation of a food booth.

Operators of Temporary Food Facilities must obtain a permit to operate issued by DEH. In accordance with Section 16102 of the Business and Professions Code, Veterans can apply for a Veteran Exempt Permit if they do not serve alcohol.

DEH does not require permits for food booths that offer only commercially pre-packaged foods that are not potentially hazardous, dispense only beverages that are not potentially hazardous, or permitted Cottage Food Operations (CFO) vending only their approved products in its approved CFO packaging. Examples include canned beverages, packaged snacks (chips, crackers, nuts, etc.), and candy bars. In order to qualify, food items must be offered in the original manufacturer's packaging, to be opened only by the consumer. Beer and other non-potentially hazardous beverages dispensed from a bulk dispensing unit will be considered and approved by DEH on a case by case basis. Mixed drinks (i.e. bar service) and/or serving ice does require a permit.

Applications for Temporary Food Facility permits must be received at DEH by 5:00 p.m. no later than ten (10) working days before the beginning of the event. DEH "working days" do not include Saturdays, Sundays, or holidays. (For example, if an event occurs on Saturday, the deadline is 5:00 p.m. Friday two weeks prior). Applications received or postmarked after the deadline will be accepted, provided the application is accompanied by twice the regular permit fee.

The person in charge of the food booth will be contacted by an inspector and interviewed on the information provided including safe food-handling practices. A permit when signed and stamped by DEH is valid only for the date(s), location, operation described, and event listed on the application. This permit must be displayed at the event. Any person who operates a food facility shall obtain all necessary permits to conduct business, including but not limited to, this permit issued by DEH. A person in charge must be present at the Temporary Food Facility at all times.

If you need more information on Temporary Food Facilities, please call DEH at 707-445-6215.
