What is Job Corps?

Job Corps is the nation's largest career technical training and education program for low-income, young people ages 16-24. Established in 1964 by the Department of Labor, Job Corps serves approximately 60,000 young adults each year in over 100 different technical trades. Job Corps is open to all who qualify, offering youth an opportunity to gain the experience they need to begin a career or advance to higher education.
How Job Corps Works

The Career Development Service System (CDSS) is Job Corps’ way of providing seamless services to students, including recruitment, education, career training, job assistance, and transitional support services after graduation. CDSS is divided into 5 phases.

Phase I - Outreach & Admissions: Prospective student turns in an application & interviews. Admissions Counselors determine eligibility, background check is complete and students are introduced to campus & their responsibilities.

Phase II - Career Preparation Period: Upon joining Job Corps, students are introduced to campus life and the Wellness Center, drug testing & policies, trade shadowing & work with staff to develop an individual Personal Career Development Plan.

Phase III - Career Development Period: This is the longest phase, about 12-18 months where students works on obtaining their high school diploma/GED, vocational training & work base learning, and pre-requisites for advance training or college placement.

Phase IV - Career Transition Period: Students work with a Career Transition Specialist to help them transition from Job Corps to the working world for up to 21 months after graduations.

Phase V: Career
There are 125 Job Corps Centers nationwide, located in 48 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico, offering training in over 100 different career areas. In Northern California, we have 3 centers offering training in 25 different technical trades: Sacramento, San Jose, Treasure Island.
