2.0 INTRODUCTION

2.1 Statement of Purpose

The purpose of this Request for Proposals is to acquire proposals from qualified full-service marketing agencies and/or marketing consultants. The selected Consultant will develop a distinct national and industry “brand” for Humboldt County grown cannabis and cannabis-related products and services, will provide a range of professional marketing services, and engage in effective promotion of the Humboldt County Cannabis as a unique, high quality product sourced solely in Humboldt County, California. Successful proposals will also include recommendations for strategic use of a county STAMP program.

2.2 Background

The Region

The County of Humboldt is located on California’s northern Pacific Coast. The southern border of the County is located 200 miles north of San Francisco, the closest major metropolitan city. The County is bordered on the north by Del Norte County, on the east by Siskiyou and Trinity Counties, on the south by Mendocino County and on the west by the Pacific Ocean. The County encompasses 2.3 million acres, 80 percent of which is forestlands, protected redwoods and recreation areas. The region is primarily mountainous, except for a plain surrounding Humboldt Bay where the area’s largest urban centers are located.

The 2018 Census population of Humboldt County was 136,373.

The County has seven incorporated cities ranging in size from 368 to 27,283 persons. Slightly less than half of the County’s residents live in incorporated communities, while 54 percent of County residents live in the area surrounding Humboldt Bay. This area includes the cities of Arcata, Eureka, Ferndale, and Fortuna, and the unincorporated community of McKinleyville.

Cannabis

Origins of Industry

Cannabis was initially grown in Humboldt County in the 1960s and 70s by individuals and families interested in going “back-to-the-land” and a more rural lifestyle. Cannabis cultivators perfected their craft over time and Humboldt County gained a reputation as a source for unique, high quality cannabis. These operations were mostly small-scale farms and sales proceeds were often used to support families and/or subsidize other income. In addition, revenues from cannabis were often spent in the community, supporting local non-profits and other Humboldt County businesses.

In the 1980s, many resources dedicated to the national “war on drugs” were focused on eradicating cannabis in Humboldt County. Cultivators who evaded law enforcement or survived law enforcement raids and loss of crops modified their approach and continued to depend on the industry for their livelihood.

Legalization

California passed Proposition 215 in 1996, which exempted patients and caregivers from criminal marijuana laws. Unfortunately, laws regarding cultivation remained unclear for many years.

The 2009 announcement that the federal government would not put resources toward prosecuting people who complied with their state marijuana laws sparked additional interest in cultivating cannabis in Humboldt County and prompted what is often referred to as the “green rush”. Local farmers expanded crops and others came into the area specifically to grow cannabis, focusing on profits—too often with little regard to impacts to the environment or the local communities.

In 2016, following the 2015 passage of the California Medical Marijuana Regulation and Safety Act, Humboldt County launched a process designed to license new and previously illegal cannabis grows. 2018 brought the legalization of recreational marijuana for adult use. This shift has brought more and bigger cultivators to the industry, increasing competition. A subsequent drop in prices coupled with the costs of moving a cannabis business into regulatory compliance has disproportionately impacted smaller Humboldt County farmers, leaving many struggling. Many others have been forced to leave the industry altogether.

Need

Humboldt is known internationally for quality cannabis cultivation and the industry has been a significant economic driver for years. As Cannabis emerges as a statewide industry, Humboldt County needs to maintain a competitive advantage in order to preserve and grow market share. Most agree that the region’s economic future will be greatly influenced by how local businesses adapt to changes in the industry.

Assets

The Cannabis industry benefits from many of the same assets as other industries located in Humboldt County, including a beautiful and diverse natural environment, diverse entrepreneurial network, an innovative “maker” culture, and rural quality of life for residents and visitors alike.

In addition, Humboldt County’s long history in the Cannabis industry has created many industry-specific assets. The community is home to multiple individuals with decades and/or multi-generations of experience, many with specialized expertise in the Cannabis industry. Industry leaders are adaptable and creative problem solvers, committed to growing and producing quality products. This has helped ensure that Humboldt County has a nationally and internationally established and ever-growing reputation for producing quality/premium cannabis plants and products. This renown has solidified Humboldt County’s identity within the region as a cannabis tourism destination which should be capitalized upon. For example, the Napa Valley is the most renowned/familiar winegrowing region in the United States while producing only 4% of California’s grapes and 0.4% of the world’s wine. Humboldt County is poised to become the center of Canna-Tourism.

The story of Cannabis in Humboldt County—the development of specialized expertise and the growth and evolution of the industry is also an asset that should be considered in any marketing/branding effort.

See the Humboldt County Cannabis Equity Assessment, August 2019 for more information about the history of Cannabis in the region. The document can be accessed at <https://humboldt.gov/DocumentCenter/View/78948/Humboldt-County-Cannabis-Equity-Assessment>.

All proposals will be evaluated by an evaluation panel made up of County staff. All contacts during the review selection phase will only be through the RFP Administrator, Scott Adair (see Section 12.0 for contact information). Attempts by the Proposer to contact any other County representative may result in disqualification of a proposal. The RFP Administrator will present the evaluation results to the County Board of Supervisors for review and approval on or about January 14, 2020.

The evaluation process is designed to award the procurement not necessarily to the Proposer of least cost, but rather to the Proposer with the best combination of attributes based upon the evaluation criteria. Therefore, proposals are evaluated against the evaluation criteria in this RFP and not against other proposals.

The County reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to request clarifications of proposals or to conduct discussions for the purpose of clarification with any or all Proposers. The purpose of any such discussions shall be to ensure full understanding of the proposal. Discussions shall be limited to specific sections of the proposal identified by the County and, if held, shall be after initial evaluation of the proposals. If clarifications are made as a result of such discussion, the Proposer shall put such clarifications in writing.

1. All products, graphics, domain names, content developed during the course of the project/under this scope of work shall be owned solely by the County, together with any and all underlying software, object codes, digital programming and source codes. 13.0 LIQUIDATED DAMAGES

If the work necessary to complete the project scope of work is not finished by the time of completion set forth in the final Professional Services Agreement, damage will be sustained by the County, and it will be impracticable and extremely difficult to ascertain and determine the amount thereof. Therefore, the Proposer will be required to pay the County a mutually agreed upon sum per day for each and every calendar day's delay in finishing the work in excess of the number of working days prescribed. Additionally, the Proposer will be required to pay said liquidated damages, and the County may deduct the amount thereof from any moneys payable or that may become payable to the Proposer under the Professional Services Agreement.

15.0 CANCELLATION OF RFP PROCESS

The RFP process may be canceled after opening, but prior to award if the County determines that cancellation is in the best interest of the County for reasons similar to the following:

1. The services are no longer required.
2. The proposals received are unfeasible due to cost.
3. The proposals did not independently arrive in open competition, were collusive, or were not submitted in good faith.
4. The County determines that its needs can be satisfied through an alternative method.

The County reserves the right to amend or modify the Scope of Services prior to the award of proposal, as necessity may dictate, and to reject any and all proposals hereunder. This RFP does not commit the County to award an agreement or to pay any costs incurred in the preparation of a proposal in response to this request. The County reserves the right to accept or reject any or all proposals received as a result of the request, to negotiate with any qualified source or to cancel in part or in its entirety this RFP, if it is in the best interest of the County as determined thereby.
