To To Whom it May Concern:

I was going to direct my comment to these major concerns:

- A. ONE Wind Generator Turbine (WGT) weighs 33,000 tons. What is to become of our precious underground aquifers?
- B. The irreverent taking of irreplaceable and federally protected bird life
- C. The shifting of local climate-fog patterns by non-natural wind currents
- D. High potential for mechanical electrical fires by avian electrocution and welding fires
- E. The resonating INFRA-sound of ONE WGT that reverberates 25 miles
- F. All of the above's impact on humans and wildlife

Instead, as a landscape artist, I am going to address aesthetics! We are blessed with one of the loveliest pieces of visual environment in the state. Pure and unspoiled. And for the pay off is the wanton criminal vandalism of its royal mantle...the timber and grasslands of Monument and Bear River Ridges.

G.
 Sincerely,
 Jimmie-Fay Beal
