One Additional Case Confirmed

Humboldt County's COVID-19 case count now stands at 51 as one additional case was confirmed today. This is the first positive since April 7. Contact investigations are underway to determine the means of transmission for this new case.

Humboldt County Health Officer Dr. Teresa Frankovich said every case is a reminder that COVID-19 is circulating in our community. "We have fully expected additional cases," she said. "It is important for everyone to follow the Shelter-in-Place Order as well as the other measures recommended, including social distancing, masking, frequent handwashing and sanitizing, as well as good cleaning practices."

The following information is based on the most recent data available for all confirmed cases:

- Contact to a Known Case: 23
- Travel-Acquired: 20
- Community Transmission: 7
- Under Investigation: 1

Notes on patient and demographic data

To protect the identity of people with COVID-19, their specific location of residence will not be disclosed. The Humboldt County Public Health Branch is legally responsible for protecting personal health information, including residence address, specific age, recent travel, the identities and locations of any contacts, the provider of medical treatment, the course of illness and any other information that might identify an individual with or exposed to the virus unless it serves the interests of public health to do so.

Although we understand it is of interest to residents, providing location and demographic information to the general public does nothing to slow the spread of illness. Humboldt County is experiencing untraceable person-to-person transmission, also known as "community spread," and there is no place that can be considered safe. To reduce your chances of acquiring or spreading COVID-19, avoid travel, wash your hands, keep yourself and your environment clean, follow the shelter-in-place order, and do not leave home for any reason unless it is absolutely necessary to do so.
